HEALTH FOR THE STATES!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION, AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD

Copy of a Letter from Mr John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire

To Professor HOLLOWAY

Sir,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you that for a very long period I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it became so alarming that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition I waited personally upon Mr Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do, he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

June 6, 1852. (Signed) JOHN LLOYD

MIRACULOUS CURE OF DROPSY

Extract of a Letter from Edward Rowley, Esq of India Walk, Tobago, dated April 8th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY

Dear Sir,—I deem it a duty I owe to you and the public at large to inform you of a most miraculous recovery from that dreadful disease, DROPSY, and which, under God, was affected by your invaluable Pills. I was tapped five times within eight months and skilfully treated by two medical practitioners but could not get cured, until I had recourse to your remedy, and notwithstanding all I had undergone this miraculous medicine cured me in the course of six weeks.

(Signed) EDWARD ROWLEY

INFALLIBLE CURE OF A STOMACH COMPLAINT, WITH INDIGESTION & VIOLENT HEAD-ACHES.

Extract of a Letter from Mr S. Gowen Chemist of Clifton, near Bristol, dated July 14th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY

Dear Sir—I am requested by a Lady named Thomas, just arrived from the West Indies, to acquaint you that for a period of eight years herself and family suffered from continual bad health, arising from disorders of the Liver and Stomach, Indigestion, loss of Appetite, violent Head aches, pains in the side, weakness and general debility, for which she consulted the most eminent men in the colony, but without any beneficial result, at last she had recourse to your invaluable Pills, which in a very short time effected so great a change for the better, that she continued them, and the whole family were restored to health and strength. Further she desires me to say, that she has witnessed their extraordinary virtues in those complaints incidental to children, particularly in cases of Measles and Scarlatina, having effected positive cures of these diseases with no other remedy.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WHO USE

Steam as a Motive Power,

[illegible]

Safety and Great Economy.

AN opportunity is now offered to all whom it may concern, to secure the exclusive right of manufacturing using and vending, in States and Counties,

IRVING'S

Circulating Safety Steam Boiler,

for Stationary Engines, Locomotives, Marine Engines, River, Lake and Ocean Steamers, &c.—The advantages of this Boiler over all others now in use are,

—ENTIRE SAFETY FROM EXPLOSION, being no more liable to explode than an open chaldron.

—Less than ONE THIRD the amount of fuel required to generate the steam obtained by other Boilers of the same power.

—The cost of construction is reduced ONE-THIRD.

—They occupy but ONE-THIRD the space of other Boilers, and may be applied to any engine now in use.

—The expense of Furnace Grates will be incalculably lessened by the small amount of fuel required, and the manner of using it.

The Company GUARANTEE the reality of the above advantages. Their conclusions are based on PRACTICAL RESULTS; many of these Boilers being now in use in and about this city. The inventor has but just succeeded, after years of application in bringing this valuable invention before the public. It stands alone and independent in its merits, and if it has the qualities claimed, which are undeniable, the public will at once acknowledge its superiority over any other motive power.

Terms of sale made known on application at the office of the "IRVING STEAM BOILER COMPANY," corner of Broadway and Park-place, New York, over the New Broadway Bank.

Circulars containing terms of sale, &c., will be forwarded by mail, if requested, addressed as above.

PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITES, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

THE Proprietor has succeeded (from directions of Professor Stone) in combining the Oil and Lime so perfectly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely overcome, and it can be taken by the most delicate females with pleasure. And as regards the benefit of this article over the clear oil, the following case, by Prof. Stone, is sufficient to convince the most skeptical. The young lady was twenty-four years of age.

Her disease was one of unmixed phthisic, which had been expected to terminate in the course of a few months, fatally. The upper part of both her lungs were filled with tubercles; and in some places were beginning to soften. The case was evidently a bad one. The treatment of Cod Liver Oil was at first used, but without marked improvement. The Phosphate of Lime was then administered with the oil, and the result, as in the case of many others, was soon apparent. The patient was rapidly getting well."

CAUTION.—On account of the great reputation of this Compound for all Lung complaints, the subscriber would caution the afflicted against using any except that manufactured by him, as he has the only recipe in the United States for combining the pure Oil with lime in a proper manner. Therefore as you value your health, purchase none except that manufactured by

Bank Note Protection.

A new plan to prevent Fraud by the Alteration of Bank Notes from low to higher denominations.

The Notes are divided into two classes.

CLASS FIRST, embraces the denominations of one, two, three, four and five dollars. These are distinguished by strips at the right ends of the notes, composed of geometric lathe work, and running towards the centre, the number of strips corresponding with the amounts of the notes. Thus a one strip for one dollar, two strips for two dollars, and so on; and upon the centre of these strips a large figure, readily seen, designates the denomination of each note. In this class of notes, there are no borders on the left ends—which are occupied by vignettes and other work. The President's name will be placed under and near the right end strip work on all notes of this class, and that of the Register, or some other name above it, thus protecting the strip work from alteration—no place being left for adding another strip, either above or below the signatures.

CLASS SECOND, embraces the denominations of ten, twenty, fifty, one hundred and five hundred dollars. On these the whole arrangement is reversed. The strips of lathe work, (different from those used upon the other class of notes) commence at the left ends, and run towards the centre, the vignettes and other work being upon the right. On this class the Cashier's name is placed under the strip work, and that of the Register directly over it, their names being separated by one strip on a ten dollar note, by two on a twenty, three on a fifty, four on a hundred and by five strips upon a five hundred dollar note, presenting a perfect contrast between the two classes of notes.

Any person acquainted with the plan, could not be deceived by any alteration of any one of these notes in either class, from one denomination to another. The plan is a simple one, and is comprehended almost at a glance, from an examination of the notes; for although so many lines are required to describe it in words the pictorial description is very short, and easily understood and remembered. The inventor, JAMES ATWATER, Esq., of New Haven, Conn., has secured his invention by caveat, entered at the Patent Office at Washington, and has made an arrangement with DANFORTH, WRIGHT & CO., exclusively, for its use upon Bank Notes.

Besides the protection against the alteration of the denominations of Bank Notes afforded to banks and the public by this plan, a very great security against counterfeiting is also afforded, by the free use of the geometric lathe work of which the borders are composed, and which cannot be successfully imitated, either with any other machine, or with the graver.

The following certificate from Dr John C. Warren of Boston, was given 16 years since, but will last forever.

Boston, January 7, 1835

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of a skillful workman in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J. F. Foster, to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Beath. After some months of observation of his work I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenious in accommodating them to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren, and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to those important articles.

JOHN C WARREN, M.D, Boston.

CERTIFICATE. The following certificate is from Professor Stuart, of Andover Theological Seminary.

The undersigned having occasion to employ Mr. J. Frederick Foster, of Boston, in making and fitting Trusses for the relief of Hernia, takes great pleasure in recommending him to the favorable notice of such persons as may be afflicted with that and similar complaints. Mr Foster's success in the manufacture, and adapting them to the body, giving ease and comfort to the wearer, surpass (as far as our experience goes,) any other manufacturer of the article.

The numerous testimonials which he has received, together with the recommendations of that eminent surgeon, Dr J C Warren, as a sufficient guaranty for all who may favor Mr F. that his instruments will give entire satisfaction, and he will satisfy all reasonable demands for an equitable compensation.

TURIN, KINGDOM OF SARDINIA

MESSRS. EDITORS—I came from France into Italy through the Savoyard Alps, and by the pass of Mount Cenis. Starting from Lyons on a favorable day at an early hour, our little party, taking the nearest route to Chamberri, the principal town of Savoy, passed through a portion of the French territory, which exhibited everywhere marks of fertility and good cultivation, besides being rich in variegated scenery. At this season of the year it would be difficult and perhaps dangerous to attempt to enter Italy by some of the other routes, filled as they are said to be with snows and exposed to avalanches. In journeying from London to the village of Pont Beauvoisin situated on a small river, called Guiers Vif, which separates France from Savoy, we were in full sight during a part of the day, of Mont Blanc and other Alpine peaks, which reared their snow-covered and well defined forms in the distance.

Savoy is now a part of the kingdom of Sardinia. And in the part of the village of Pont Beauvoisin, which is on the Savoy or Sardinian side of the Guiers Vif, is a custom house, where our baggage was subjected to a slight examination.

Travelers sometimes complain of these things, but they did not trouble me. We found here men and women under a new and different government, speaking a language different from our own and inhabiting a soil never trodden by us before; but the instinctive interpretations of the heart, sacred as the source from which they spring, recognized the bonds of universal relationship; and I loved them without knowing them.

On leaving this village we found ourselves, in the course of a few miles, in the midst of the elevated and difficult mountain passes called the gorge of LaChaille. The Guiers Vif, having its origin in the neighboring mountainous region of the Grand Chartreus, dashes onward from precipice to precipice through this gorge. This region has been described in an eloquent passage of Rousseau. And certainly this is one of the sublime and eloquent places of nature. The road has been formed on the edge of the precipices which overhang the foaming stream beneath,—sometimes by blasting a passage through the solid rock, sometimes by terraces or embankments of solid masonry built up along the edge of these frightful abysses.—The shades of evening closed upon us when we were passing through this remarkable region; but I saw and felt enough to enable me easily to imagine, how these wild and terrific scenes must have operated upon the creative and vigorous mind of Rousseau.

There was no light of the moon that night; but the stars shone clear and brightly, and as we moved along with considerable rapidity and frequently changed our direction, they seemed to be dancing and playing in the green dark tops of the mountains. From time to time another light shone lower down on the mountainous declivities, and yet hundreds of feet above us. It was the light of the cottage on the rocks, the star of the poor man's hearth, and of domestic relationships and love. On the other side of us and only a few feet distant were dark abysses. As I looked down, I could see nothing but darkness robed in mists. So near did we approach, that sometimes we seemed to be riding on the wings of a dark cloud; and from the depths invisible came up the troubled sound of foaming waters.

On the route to Chamberri there is a little village called Les Echelles, which is situated also upon the mountain river, the Guiers Vif. There is a valley here, through which the road leads, but the farther end of it is shut up by a vast limestone rock thrown directly across the way. It is eight hundred feet high. It reminded me of the rock, which Livy describes as having stopped the passage of Hannibal for a time when entering Italy through the Alps, and which he was obliged to soften by heating it and then pouring vinegar upon it; and over which he made his way by cutting steps in difficult places when he had softened it in this manner. And I know not but this may have been the identical rock. I make this remark incidentally, and without attaching any special value to it, because it is conceded by many writers, that his route into Italy was not far from this place. It was certainly interesting to me to find myself associating with this remarkable locality, for this and some other reasons, the two great names of military history, Hannibal and Napoleon. The road winds part of the way up this massive pile of limestone, and then passes through an immense artificial tunnel in its centre, which is wide enough to admit two carriages abreast, and twenty-five feet high. It is about a thousand feet long. The excavation of this tunnel, a gigantic conception indicative of the mind of its author, was commenced by Napoleon; but was finished by the king of Sardinia in 1817. Hannibal passed over the rocks; Napoleon went through them. This was the difference between the two men. Hannibal ascended. He loved high places. His foot was on the top of the mountains. He was a soldier, but he had the soul of a republican. Napoleon, too proud or too powerful to go over them, shaped the mountains to his own model, and he treated men and institutions in the same way. Napoleon too was a soldier and a monarchist. The one modified and situated his principles by this inordinate love of his country. The other sacrificed his principles to his ambition. Both took the sword; and both fell by the sword. Hannibal, showing to his soldiers from the peaks of the Alps, the plains of Italy, and overthrowing mighty armies at Thrasymene and Cannae, carried his standards to the gates of Rome. But the tide of aggressive war, in its terrible revulsion, and by a law of reaction which never fails, rolled back again, and swept away his city and nation. Napoleon too, the conqueror, not only of Italy but of Europe, carried the eagles of his legions to the gates of Moscow; but they had no power to go beyond that barrier of fire. The sea of proud and oppressive violence, rolling back, not only overwhelmed his nation, but dashed their ruined leader on the rocks of St. Helena. And this is the great lesson which history teaches. What is gained by the violence of the sword, is lost again; but what is gained by truth and love, is gained forever.

The night is favorable to reflection; and such thoughts passed through my mind, as I traveled through the mountains of Savoy under the light of the stars. At midnight we arrived at Chamberri. Through the region of that city, I believe it is conceded on all sides, that Hannibal made his way into Italy. This is an old city of ten thousand inhabitants, and is the capital of Savoy. It is the birth place of Xavier LeMaistre, the author of the Leper of Aost and other popular writings; and Rousseau, whose genius took its hue in part from the wild scenes of nature, resided for a long time in its vicinity. It is situated in the midst of mountains, which rear their heads around it. It has its manufactures, its public library and college; but its objects of interest are not such as to detain the stranger in it for a long time. The next day found us again in the midst of mountain scenery, and rapidly advancing towards the pass of Mont [illegible]—through which, as if through the gates of some great and lofty fortress we were to descend into the plains of Italy In reaching this [illegible] we passed through the town of Montmelian, situated on the right bank of the river [illegible]. From the bridge which is thrown over [illegible] there is a good view of Mont Blanc [illegible] this place there was formerly a strong castle which was taken and demolished by Louis [illegible] Not far from Montmellian the Isere is [illegible] by a beautiful tributary called the Arc After reaching this tributary stream, which now offered itself as our guide, we continued our journey on its banks and traveled for a long [illegible] through the extended valley which is [illegible] by it. On each side the mountains rose to great heights—their heads being covered with snow In some places they presented an angular and naked surface of rocks, in others were covered with earth and cultivated to a [illegible] Small cottages were seen on their sides, and sometimes on their summits,—a ter[illegible] position but woman is there the family [illegible] the gray hairs of the father and the [beauty] of the daughter Frequently torrents, white with foam, were seen, dashing around mountain cottages, and rushing from [illegible] in channels which they had worn for [illegible] This is a place of tempests, as well as of [illegible] and sublimity Sometimes, the storms, [illegible] collect in these rocky caverns and gorges [illegible] terrible black with clouds, and marching [with] thunder and lightning through these gates [illegible] nature and nations, and detaching with [illegible] power large fragments of rock which lie at [frequent] intervals along the path of the traveller We were thus hemmed in among these extra[ordinary] manifestations of the works of nature some thirty or forty miles, our journey all [the] way being close upon the banks of the sw[ift] [illegible] Arc, which seemed sometimes to be [angry] and sometimes to sing and rejoice as it [went] along The whole distance was a gradual [ascent] So that having passed the villages of Jean Maurienne St. Michael Modane, and [illegible] others of less importance we were thous[ands] [illegible] feet above the level of the sea at the [vil]lage of Lansle ourg which is at the foot of [Mont] Cenis The mountain was covered with [snow] but we were able to ascend it with the [aid] of extra horses in about four hours The [culminating] point of the pass, through which [the] road goes, is a short distance below the [sum]mit, which has been ascertained to be 6780 [feet] above the sea level I got out of the car[riage] and leaving the road for a short time, [ascen]ded still further on the sides of the sum[mit] [and] gave myself up to the reflections in[spired] by the place And thus after ascending [alp] after alp and mountain after mountain we [saw] Italy at our feet,—Italy dear to the schol[ar] [and] the Christian —Italy once honored by a [st]ate which was described as an assembly of [kings] —Italy the mistress of the world by its [arms] and again and still more truly the mis[tress] of the world by its arts, civilization and [literature]

[illegible] ry people has its position, its character [illegible] ory The humble Savoyard though far [from] the seats of literature and the glare of pow[er] [has] a heart which beats true to the snow [crowned] hills and cliffs of his birthplace Man is estimated by his place as well as his na[ture] It is place which gives character to na[tions] The Savoyard is what he is by being [what] he is. No other people has or can have [the] thoughts or feelings His position has [gr]own out and nurtured his soul, because his [soul is w]edded to his position He knows the [history] of each rock of each rude fortification [of his] mountain side, of each rivulet and [ea]ch torrent, of the den of the wolf and the [nest] of the eagle He has heard the story of the [thunder]ing avalanche which destroyed the cottage [and] its dwellers, and has wept for their fate [He] has the sorrows and the joys which are com[mon to] humanity and let the traveler, as he [passes] through these wild and solitary regions [and se]es him at work in his field or seated at [the do]or of his humble cottage remember that [he is] a man and a brother, and therefore worthy [of w]hat freedom can give for the present, and [what] religion can impart for the future

Particulars of the Loss of the Independence

There is a mournful interest connected with the loss of this steamer on the Pacific, the general account of which has already appeared in our columns We give below many of the most interesting incidents

The San Francisco Whig publishes a full account of the disaster, the particulars of which were furnished by Dr J B Torbett, Surgeon of the Independence The origin of the fire is given as follows after stating that a heavy head of steam was kept up by piling an immense amount of dry wood into the furnaces

At length a large gulley or ravine was discovered, which appeared to make out into a sand beach and into this nook the bows of the steamer were turned The crowd was now so great around the stern to avoid the anticipated danger of the concussion, that the helmsman could with difficulty steer the ship She was, however beached handsomely and with considerable force Had this been the only danger, there is no doubt that every soul on board would have been saved, but in the exertions to get up steam to hurry the vessel's progress, a tremendous heat had been made in the furnaces the water now fast increasing in the vessel's hold, stopped the flues and obstructed the draught into the chimneys, the furnace doors were of course burst open, and a vivid volume of flame twenty feet in length shot in to the fire-room, driving everybody before it with the intense heat, and instantly setting the wood work in a blaze All efforts to control the flames were utterly ineffectual, and from this moment the fire ran rapidly over the vessel

A boat was launched for the shore, which was distant 300 yards, but it was speedily swamped A second boat succeeding in reaching the shore, and a line was made fast from the ship to the shore. The account continues

"During this time the ship remained immovable, the surf striking her in the stern and perhaps tending to set her firmer into the sand—The third boat having been lowered, it was found that she was half full of water, and of no service unless bailed out, and Dr. Corbett sprang into her for that purpose, this effected, six ladies were passed down into the boat, among whom were Miss Conway, Mrs Haley, Mrs. Seymour, and Mrs Coots, there were two other ladies whose names we have not learned, the boat rode the first breaker but was filled and swamped by the second, and those already on shore rushed in to the rescue of the ladies and dragged them on to the beach. Doctor Corbett was in this boat, and gaining the shore, turned towards the ship at the cries of terror proceeding from her, and beheld the quarter deck enveloped in flames

And now ensued one of the most harrowing scenes ever recorded in the history of shipwreck, the flames leaped rapidly across the after part of the ship, driving the masses before it, and dozens sprang into the water and were seen struggling in the surf All the boats were now gone, and it was impossible to regain the ship from the shore or to render any succor whatever, dreadful cries and screams proceeded from the ship, which, mingled with the roaring of the sea, the crackling of the flames, and shouting of those on shore who could only gaze helplessly on the sight, must have been an era of terror in the lives of those who beheld it from the beach As the flames advanced forward, the unhappy victims were forced into the sea, and every surf came freighted with corpses or exhausted, half drowned men, women and children Such a scene has never before been witnessed on the Pacific coast. To add to the excitement, the flames had now communicated to the powder magazine, which exploded, tearing the run and stern to pieces, and splintering all that portion of the ship, the two guns, surrounded by the flames, also sent their solemn booming over the scene

Those who were fortunate enough to get within reach of their friends on shore, were dragged half dead out of the reach of the surf while others were swept around the stern of the steamer, or out to sea, there being a strong current making seaward from the ship At one moment not less than thirty corpses and bodies of the dying were in the edge of the surf, some of them divested of clothing Out of a party of eighteen Jews who were on board sixteen perished from the weight of coin it was supposed, which they attempted to bring with them through the waves The outward current above mentioned, carried off numbers of persons who were good swimmers or floated who would otherwise have been saved, several women thus floating were swept away, the baggage, such as would float, also went out with the eddy, none of it was saved by drifting to the shore

Some of the sailors, firemen and coal passers—noble fellows—disregarding their own danger, seized little children in their arms or lashed them to themselves, and attempted to go to the shore Several are known to have thus sacrificed themselves We have no space or heart to insert the numerous affecting instances of courage and self sacrifice of which we have received accounts Among the most conspicuous is that of Mr Iorr of Sacramento who lost his life in attempting to save a son of Mr Watson They came ashore together—both drowned One of the firemen whose name we did not learn brought on shore two children, whose parents were both drowned—Another fireman brought a beautiful boy ashore to his mother who had just been washed to the beach Her husband and two children were drowned, and she supposed this child had shared the same fate The meeting may be imagined

The purser of the ship, Mr James Freeborn, remained upon the deck until driven off by the fire when springing overboard he clung to a floating spar, and was washed ashore insensible, he was resuscitated, but barely escaped with his life, being attacked with a violent fever—There is one fireman known as Tom Sawyer a wild, reckless scamp but whose faults be they what they may should henceforth be forgotten, this brave fellow entirely stripped went to and from the wreck four times, he is only nineteen years of age After the third time, and when nearly exhausted with his exertions, he learned that the chief engineer, Mr Collins was unable to swim and likely to drown He immediately started off again through the surf with a life preserver, fastened it around the helpless man and accompanied him to the beach, he was also instrumental in preserving the lives of several others

Most of those ashore were too exhausted to render assistance to those beating about in the surf People ran about the beach perfectly frantic one party attempted to launch a boat to reach the steamer, but it was overwhelmed by the surf and this accident intimidated others so that it was impossible to muster the requisite force to launch a second Meantime the ship had become a living mass of fire the heat was intense even on the shore and every moment the beach received new accessions to the list of dead and dying The scene was truly harrowing and when at last the steamer was a charred and smoking hulk her stern lifted, and she swung heavily round and went up broadside on the beach

Some few provisions were saved from the wreck such as salt beef pork molasses vinegar, a few tin cans of preserved meats and some cheese, but no water, nor was there a drop on the island, which we have before observed was utterly barren and uninhabited The usual amount of suffering particularly among the women and children was experienced During the first day attempts were made by the survivors after burying the dead, to procure water by condensing steam, but the experiment failed, There were now some two hundred and seventy souls congregated on the beach, and they all went without tasting water for fifty six hours the salt provisions only aggravated their sufferings

Among the incidents of the day after the wreck a child was born on the beach and is now healthy and thriving the mother was carried across the mountains in a hammock, and even walked part of the way to the boats Many of the passengers, especially among the females, suffered much from want of clothing The dead were buried near the wreck Holes were dug in the sand with boards, and each corpse received a separate grave

There were sixty graves dug and the remaining sixty nine were probably burned or washed away by the waves Among the names of those buried—a full list is not published—we notice the names of Otis Hale of Massachusetts and Robert Taylor of Boston

The San Francisco Herald gives a very minute account, a portion of which we copy —

"The passengers were orderly enough until the fire broke out, they saw the smoke coming up from below, and some asked the captain and crew if the ship was on fire, they answered no, and that there was no danger They believed themselves safe even as to the preservation of their baggage and so great was this feeling of security that some of the ladies remained in bed When the flames began to burst forth, and the alarm of fire was sounded, confusion and fright began to reign, men seemed deprived of reason by excess of terror, and leaped wildly into the sea, where they buffetted the waves frantically for a time and then went down like lead The first boat that was sent to communicate by a line with the shore was swamped; the sailors clung to her and were thrown in safety on the beach Another boat was started under the guidance of Captain Steene, thus succeeded in reaching the shore with a line

The flames now began to rage with redoubled violence the wind driving the smoke aft, so that most of the passengers congregated about the bows; a scene of terror, confusion and suspense ensued which baffles description, many were so frightened that they made scarce any effort to swim, but went down without a struggle; others, cast back and forward by the powerful surf, battered and bruised against the rocks, gave up the fight and sank from sheer exhaustion Most of the passengers had assembled upon the bows to escape the driving flames and suffocating smoke, a group of nine remained upon the poop until driven to the water by the heat, one of their number, seized with a sudden panic, leaped overboard to a floating spar, missed it and was drowned, the others acting more deliberately reached the shore. But few were saved by the boats—but two boat loads, we understand, most of those who were saved floated ashore upon spars, benches and other articles thrown overboard. Many of the ladies were saved by the buoyancy of their inflated clothing, which enabled them to float upon the water

The following act of devotion and its unfortunate result is sad to relate A Mr Taylor swam to the shore with his child upon his back, and placed the infant in safety upon the bank, then, through the masses of wreck, through floating spars and struggling swimmers, he made his way back to where he had left his wife clinging, in the water, to the rudder post, he bore her also to the beach, but she had been so much bruised by being repeatedly dashed against the ship's bottom by the heavy waves, that she did not survive to bless her husband for his devotion, she died on board the Meteor Mr Saunders and four others floated three miles out to sea upon a hen-coop, they were picked up by Capt Sampson, who went to their relief in a boat. The water was chilling cold, and they were completely exhausted and benumbed with clinging beneath its surface for several hours, to their frail raft It is supposed that many floated out to sea and were lost, as the tide was on the ebb, there was an eddy at the bow, and some were drowned by being drawn under by the suction of the soil that had been passed beneath

There were four boats in all, three of which were of iron, they were capable of holding ten persons each. A gentleman, whose name we did not learn, attempted to swim ashore with his child upon his back, and supporting his wife by a handkerchief to which she clung, she was torn away, but managed to cling to a rope, while he proceeded and saved the child He then returned to his wife, and they both started again Just then, a person jumped from the ship and falling struck the lady upon the head, she was stunned and immediately sank despite her husband's efforts, the latter floated to sea upon a spar, he was an Englishman and a good swimmer, but was exhausted with his efforts he was about to let go in despair, when a fellow passenger hard by, cried out to him to hold, a boat was coming He did so, and was saved

A great number of passengers sustained themselves in the water clinging to the cable stretched to the shore; This cable was suddenly slackened, letting the unfortunate down into the water Many were drowned by this including several ladies; but few were saved by clinging to the rope

Capt Sampson and Dr Watch, a passenger on board threw over doors, trunks, and other articles to the swimmers, Many of those in the water were continually crying shrieking and praying rendering the spectacle piteous in the extreme

The Captain behaved with presence of mind and courage he was the last man to leave the ship most of the crew left early Those who first reached the shore did all that lay in their power to assist the others, the steward, James Herron among others was indefatigable in his exertions

As the swimmers approached the shore, planks were thrown out to them and those that had regained a little strength waded out into the surf to lend a helping hand to their comrades, many as they came in fell exhausted upon the sand, where they lay motionless for half an hour completely prostrated with excessive exertion The ladies displayed the utmost kindness and consideration, they tended upon the sufferers supplied them from the scanty wardrobes they had saved with articles of clothing (for many of the poor wretches came utterly naked to land) and made canvas shoes to protect their feet while traversing the island in search of succor

They remained on the island three days and two nights during which time they suffered much from lack of water Several water casks floated ashore, but the liquid they contained was found so impregnated with salt as to be useless On Thursday they obtained a barrel of molasses and another of vinegar they mixed the two, and it answered the purpose of quenching their thirst Afterwards they managed to drill a hole into a rock with spikes which furnished a scant supply of brackish water which they sucked through quills—Eight miles inland some more water was discovered and several went thither in search of it The island is barren and destitute of all vegetation, except a species of prickly pear several coyotes were seen but no other signs of life

About fifty of the passengers carried one of the ship's boats, weighing about a ton across their land on their shoulders and launched her in Marguerita bay They also carried across a small cannon, procured from the wreck and a little powder, which by chance was brought ashore there was sufficient to fire the piece twice, whereby they attracted the attention of those on board the whaleships who were lying some twelve miles off The captains of those vessels immediately despatched boats ashore with provisions and water The shipwrecked party were taken off in the boats and distributed among the different vessels aboard which they remained fifteen days the Meteor was then chartered and all went aboard excepting some twenty including several ladies who preferred to proceed in another ship to the Sandwich Islands Seventeen children and fifteen females perished

The Herald states that the Independence was never a favorite ship, and in the present instance the passengers generally had a presentiment of disaster, from the large number of passengers

☞ One of the editors of the New York Express who is now on a visit to Cuba in speaking of the churches and their worshippers in Cuba gives the following interesting description:

The blacks and whites in all the churches are upon a precise equality All kneel side by side upon the same floor, to the same shrine, making the same crosses uttering the same Paternosters, Ave Marias, Credos Salves, &c—The fairest Spanish maid, decked with jewels or adorned with orders, dressed gorgeously and faring sumptuously, upon the same level with the Calesero who drove her to church in the volante, or the little gaily liveried foot boy who has just spread the worked mat upon the floor for his mistress to kneel upon, and put a little chair behind her where she may sit when she is weary with kneeling Only the few, however, rise from the floor, and when their knees give way they gather their skirts about them and spread themselves upon the floor in the most picturesque and fanciful manner There are no pews, and the women cover the whole central way to the principal altar All are veiled, and the majority wear black veils Some are veiled in pure white,—others, but these are mostly children, in red and blue veils. Many of the dresses have low necks, bare arms and are generally shorter than those worn at home They are of all colors and qualities, from bridal white satin and cambric to the purest muslins, gauses and lawns No where in Europe or America do the women dress at greater cost, or in more taste, than the Spanish and Creole women of the Island of Cuba Dress is the Idol in the volante, at evening time, upon the Paseo, in the Plaza, and most of all in the church,—many eyes sparkle here, and many jewels too, which adorn the head and arms, fingers and bosoms of the dark Senoras and Senoritas, "Like a jewel in an Ethiop's ear," is no fiction here, also, for the negro men often spend all they get in the decoration of their bodies.

The steamer Humbolt brings 26 cases of goods for exhibition at the World's Fair. The ship Meta, from Bremen, brings one hundred and forty-six cases of goods also for the exhibition.

☞ The Vineyard Gazette states that the ship Champion Capt Ripley recently arrived at that port, after an absence of only nineteen months and eight days, has brought home, it is supposed, 2200 bbls of oil and 30,000 lbs of bone, and will pay a profit to her owners, after paying insurance, of over $1 000 per month during her entire absence In addition to the oil and bone which the Champion brings, Capt Ripley sold on the voyage $2 000 worth of outfits She also brings home an entire new suit of sails none of which have yet seen service

☞ The alarm of fire about 2 o'clock this morning was caused by the burning of a small unoccupied house and a large barn property of Albert Emerson Esq on Ohio-st near Ewer's tavern The fire was first discovered in the barn, and was probably the work of an incendiary

☞ The grand jury of New York in their late presentment, call attention to the very extraordinary laxness of the authorities in not properly enforcing the existing laws regulating the sale of liquors

CHRONIC ENLARGEMENT OF THE TONSILS

My daughter when six months old was taken with a swelling in the tonsils which grew larger and larger, till when six years old she had great difficulty in swallowing her food Every night watch was kept, fearing she would suffocate The best doctors attended her but could give no relief. I took her to the most eminent doctors in the East they said there was no help for her but to outgrow it With a sad heart I returned home with her when she became so much worse that the doctors had to be called in again they decided that the tonsils must be cut off, as the only means of giving relief My wife would not consent to this and she determined to try your Liniment, which gave relief the very first application, and by a continue I use she entirely recovered She is now ten years old and fleshy and healthy as could be desired Your Liniment is also the best in use for sprains bruises cuts burns headache, etc. and it will remove the most severe pain in a few minutes It also cured caked udder in my cow in a few days

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W B Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits because his having the name of Farrell many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects

The genuine article is manufactured only by H G Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor and wholesale druggist No. 17 Main Street, Peoria Illinois to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H G before Farrell's thus—H G FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrappers all others are counterfeits.

Sold by INGRAHAM & FULLER wholesale and retail, Bangor Also by R F Russell, Oldtown French & Hamilton Dexter Geo. Parcher, Ellsworth F O Fliberts Houlton And by regularly authorized agents throughout the United States

The People's Medicine!

DR. LANGLEY'S
Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Wild Cherry, Prickly Ash, Dandelion, Thoroughwort, and Rhubarb

ROOT and HERB BITTERS!

Decidedly the greatest Medicine in the world for the least money.

"Buy me and I'll do you good."

THIS invaluable compound has now been before the public three years, during which time nearly Three Hundred Thousand Bottles have been used, thus proving it the most popular Medicine of the age. No poisonous drugs or minerals such as Opium, Antimony, or Mercury, under any of their hydra headed, hideous forms, compose any part of these Bitters. The medicinal virtues of the best Roots, Herbs, and Barks in the world are so compounded as to act in concert with nature. They cure and eradicate from the system Liver Complaint,—that main wheel of so many diseases,—Jaundice, Bile, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Humors of the Blood and Skin, Indigestion, Nervous Headache, Piles, General Debility, and the host of kindred diseases arising from a disordered stomach or bad humory blood. On the approach of warm weather most persons are troubled with Languor, Drowsiness and general lassitude of the system. This if neglected leads to Jaundice, loss of Appetite, Indigestion, Debility and decline. Langley's Bitters are just the thing to obviate all difficulties of the kind. They regulate the bowels, stimulate the circulation, purify the blood and by a constant use keep off diseases so common in Spring and Summer. Coughs and Colds, are by its use broken up and cured at once. In short, this medicine is safe for all ages and conditions and in all climates. It always does good, and never does hurt. No lying certificates, no flaming handbills or costly wrappers are used to puff it into notice. All who try them will say, as more than 200,000 persons can testify, that one Bottle will do them more good than forty Latin prescriptions of poisonous drugs by which so many persons are annually killed.

The effect of this medicine upon the system is most wonderful—Its healing, cleansing and purifying qualities operate with magic-like power upon all classes of diseases for which they are recommended. All who use them like them, because they ARE what they PROFESS to be.

Sold in Bangor, Oldtown, Orono, Brewer, Hampden and Frankfort, and by all dealers in Medicines in Bangor. Ingraham & Fuller, and Guild & Harlow, Wholesale Agents to the trade, to sell again. 97 Union street, Boston, is the Wholesale Depot.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

Coughs, Colds and Consumptions.

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM FOR COUGHS COLDS & CONSUMPTION

The VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM is probably without a parallel in having, during a period of more than Twenty five years, fully maintained the high reputation which it has acquired for CONSUMPTIVE COMPLAINTS, and all DISEASES of the LUNGS, THROAT and CHEST. It has been used with probably greater success than any other article known and Physicians who have had an opportunity of witnessing its highly salutary effects, recommend it as a safe and very efficacious medicine, equal if not superior to any other prescription for the above complaints within their knowledge. The basis of this Medicine was a private recipe of a distinguished Physician in one of the neighboring States and was preserved by an individual to whom it gave the most astonishing relief. It is composed of vegetables, and if used according to directions, must be perfectly safe.

From Messrs Allen & Co, Merchants, Cincinnati.—"Those persons who have used the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam uniformly speak of it as a valuable medicine and from the quantity sold, notwithstanding the numerous other preparations used for similar complaints, we consider it first on the list.

Respectfully &c, ALLEN & CO."

The Editor of the Seneca Falls Courier says—"We have had occasion to witness the good effect of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in our family, in case of a young lady who has been entirely cured of Consumption by the use of it, and also in severe coughs and colds and cheerfully bear testimony to its being a safe, convenient and very efficacious medicine in cases of that description."—Ed Courier.

A Clergyman from Philadelphia writes, that he has been in the habit of using the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam for himself and family, for the last thirteen years, and also of recommending it to his friends and considers it an invaluable remedy for all pulmonary complaints.

"For the last five years of my practice I have had the satisfaction to witness the beneficial effects of Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in many cases of obstinate cough and other affections of the lungs. I would therefore confidently recommend its use in all complaints of the chest as being equal if not superior to any other medicine within my knowledge.

Lempster, N H TRUMAN ABELL M. D."

☞ BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS and IMITATIONS, such as Carter's Compound Pulmonary Balsam, American Pulmonary Balsam, and others, in fact bearing the name. GASTRIC FLUID.

Prepared from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J S HOUGHTON, M D, Philadelphia Pa.

"I DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of word PEPSIN. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is NATURE'S OWN REMEDY for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no ALCOHOL, BITTERS, ACIDS or NAUSEOUS DRUGS. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of DRUGGED IMITATIONS. Pepsin is NOT A DRUG.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin, infused in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the Stomach.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c. The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact as a remedy for the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS HEAD and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found, the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of Self Destruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses, or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c were incurable. This however is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has, and is constantly curing these complaints, relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show.

Dr. Woodward of the Massachusetts Insane Hospital writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial, thus:—"It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me, says Dr. W., I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the meantime he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cure out of the question, and the proprietor could produce host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not in a single instance that has been authenticated given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases effected radical cures after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard of your cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose (different Sarsaparillas) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever, of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured, others prescribed this thing and that, but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me."

Another says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION—Ask for Dr Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame and popularity, have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate Female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., (and try only this.)

Notice. Persons conscious of physical inability from causes above named may confidentially consult Dr Morse personally or by letter, (post paid) at his office, 78 Sudbury street, Boston. The necessary advice and medicine for the speedy removal of such disability will be safely forwarded to the writer's address.

Dr. M. is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay.

Prepared by M. Morse, M. D., New York city.

It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. Morse's Vigorating Cordial, blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle. 2 bottles $5, 6 bottles $12, and $24 per dozen.

N. B. Important advice accompanying each bottle.
